

Urban Works Real Estate is proud to announce that Craig Sweitzer & Dan Bozich have been selected by New Seasons Market as their exclusive real estate brokerage representatives. Craig and Dan will work in co-operation with long-time representative Dean McCluskey as he travels abroad and enjoys a well-earned semi-retirement. Urban Works Real Estate duties include: real estate consulting, site analysis and securing new store locations throughout the Portland metropolitan area.

Currently, New Seasons Market owns and operates nine grocery stores in the Portland metropolitan area with a tenth store opening soon. The new Hawthorne location will be open for business in the fall of 2010.

New Seasons Market buys local so you can buy local, keeping more of the money we spend as a community right here at home where it belongs. New Seasons Market buys from farmers, ranchers, creamery co-ops, fishers and crabbers who are real Oregonians and Washingtonians. They work with local artisan cheese makers, Willamette Valley vintners, Central Oregon brewers, Portland coffee roasters, and neighborhood artists who handcraft soaps, candles, pottery and greeting cards.

New Seasons Market is locally owned and operated!
